DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
  - I. Claims 1-24 are drawn to a method and apparatus for addressing a mobile node identifying a host to a corresponding node at a level above a network level using an invariant virtual internet protocol address, classified in class 370, subclass 395.5.
  - II. Claims 25-27 are drawn to a dynamic host configuration protocol (DHCP) server comprising means for assigning a routable actual IP address and a virtual IP address to the mobile node, classified in class 370, subclass 395.5.
  - III. Claims 28-34 are drawn to a network address translation (NAT) device comprising means for identifying an actual IP address of the mobile node based on the virtual IP address and associating a first/second actual IP address with the mobile node, classified in class 370, subclass 395.54.
2. Inventions I and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because invention I has a method and apparatus for addressing a mobile node. The subcombination has separate utility such as a dynamic host configuration protocol (DHCP) server assigning a routable actual IP address and a virtual IP address to the mobile node.

Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because invention I has a method and apparatus for addressing a mobile node. The subcombination has separate utility such as a network address translation (NAT) device comprising means for identifying an actual IP address of the mobile node based on the virtual IP address and associating a first/second actual IP address with the mobile node.

Inventions II and III are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct if they do not overlap in scope and are not obvious variants, and if it is shown that at least one subcombination is separately usable. In the instant case, subcombination II has separate utility such as a method of transferring service data, subcombination III has separate utility such as a network address translation (NAT) device comprising means for identifying an actual IP address of the mobile node based on the virtual IP address and associating a first/second actual IP address with the mobile node.. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

The examiner has required restriction between combination and subcombination inventions. Where applicant elects a subcombination, and claims thereto are subsequently found allowable, any claim(s) depending from or otherwise requiring all the limitations of the allowable subcombination will be examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. See MPEP § 821.04(a). Applicant is advised that if any claim presented in a continuation or divisional application is anticipated by, or includes all the limitations of, a claim that is allowable in the present application, such claim may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application.

3. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Eunsook Choi whose telephone number is 571-270-1822. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday-Friday 7:30-5:00 EST.
